Having been pointed in the right direction by ra jambo I'll open a separate thread. :blush:

I'm in my early 40's and live on the west coast of Scotland. I'm happily married with one son and work in the police - coming up for 22 years. I used to be a session musician in a previous life but still keep my hand in on occasion. I'm a cynical sh*tte who doesn't trust politicians on principle - I can't pigeonhole myself as either left wing or right wing - it depends on what's being discussed. I look forward to speaking with all on here and I'll meet you on the boards and/or in the chatroom!:)

All the best,
dws.

Hello again, dws. My youngest son is thinking about becoming a policeman (he's 17). The problem is, I'd probably be his first arrest. :unsure:

dws.

Hi DWS, are you still a session musician? I'm looking for a drummer quite soon, I don't s'pose, thats what you do? I've done a fair bit of session work myself, but now I just play in a band. For a hobby really, well it started that way, but we are getting a bit busy now. We are a covers band, funk rock type of thing. I have a feeling from your agegroup, you would enjoy the songs we cover. If you want to know more, ask away young fella.B)

Sorry about the delay in reply, I've only just noticed your post.

I'm piano/keyboards, so I can't help you with the drums, mate.

If you want to hear my fifteen minutes check "Love Letters" in Ceol. That was me a loooong time ago.
