

---

Best fish & chip shop

Posted by Levenax - 2007/09/25 08:54

---

My wife and I had a brill day out yesterday. We went to South Queensferry and took the fast boat from the pier to Inchcolm Abbey out in the Forth. Then back to South Queensferry for lunch in the bistro there. A brisk 10 minute walk then took us to Dalmeny Station where we got a train for the spectacular trip over the bridge to North Queensferry. We followed the well laid out history trail through the town then walked up to the road bridge. It was early evening and the sun had come out so the walk back over the Forth was wonderful. We were a bit footsore when we got back to the car at Hawes Pier car park. A short drive took us to what might be the best fish and chip shop in Scotland – The Golden Chip in Linlithgow. Superb freshly fried plaice and great chips quickly served by cheery staff – the perfect end to a day out. There are far too many indifferent fish and chip shops but my other favourite fryers are located in Pittenweem, Anstruther, the harbour at Troon and for an English one try Seahouses in Northumberland. What's your favourite?

=====

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by Niall Ban - 2007/09/25 12:13

---

Zanre's Queen street in Peterhead Aberdeenshire. Superb quality and crisp batter to die for.

'S mise
Niall Ban.

=====

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by Bananaman - 2007/09/25 13:28

---

Its a Bit far for a day trip, but Lennox's on Barrack St in Cork is an institution.

Fast, friendly and quality.

=====

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by mwl2 - 2007/09/26 18:22

---

Grosvenor Chippy Shop in LLandrindod wells Wales. B)

=====

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by TLJ - 2007/09/26 18:33

---

Levenax wrote:

A short drive took us to what might be the best fish and chip shop in Scotland – The Golden Chip in Linlithgow.

I wasn't there last night but I was a week ago ! It's less 5 mins walk from my house and is one of our favourite chip shops (not that we frequent that regularly).

Real "black bitches" (the name given to natives of Linlithgow because of a black female dog) rate Cabrelli's above the Golden Chip but we don't !

=====

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by antibarbie - 2007/10/28 21:12

---

I'm an Anstuther Fish Bar girl - yummy!:)

---

=====

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by dws - 2007/10/28 21:38

---

"la Gondola" in Grangemouth or "The Sun" in Helensburgh...I'm a sucker for crispy batter!:P :lol:

=====

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by Levenax - 2007/10/29 10:14

---

Ah, the Sun chippy on the corner of King Street and Sinclair Street was where we all used to go at lunchtime from Hermitage Senior Secondary. When I was there in the early sixties they did a special pie & chips at lunchtime for 10d. You got a full portion of chips but the mutton pie was a specially made small version about six or seven cm in diameter. In these days they had a sit in section at the back and the better off kids went there. A crap diet at lunchtime is not the prerogative of modern kids. The Sun is still there but it's much altered since the sixties and it's no longer owned by Italians although I believe it is still quite a high class place. I must make a point of trying it the next time I pass. There were several chippies in Helensburgh in these days and whilst the Sun was much admired there was another one near the station that was notorious. The owner was reputed to run a brothel for the hundreds of sailors who drank in the town at the weekends and his grizzly old father ran the chip shop. It was popularly believed that the old guy tested the chip fat for readiness by gobbing into it. If the gob sizzled satisfactorily he lobbed the chips in. I never actually saw this happen but the place was a bit of a dump and the guy looked like a character from "Kitchen Confidential" so most folk avoided it.

=====

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by pogofish - 2007/10/29 12:14

---

Niall Ban wrote:

Zanre's Queen street in Peterhead Aberdeenshire. Superb quality and crisp batter to die for.

I'll second Zanre's as well although I'd say the Buchanhaven shop is the better of them, although I've not been there for a couple of years. I think they now have the Mintlaw chipper as well, which was/is pretty good.

Also good that way is the chipper in Pitmedden, just off the main road.

Anstruther as well & of course the Bervie Chipper in Inverbervie & the Carron in Stonehaven.

The one in the street opposite the tower in Dufftown as well & the one in Ballater has improved drastically in recent years.

Nothing like a good supper after a day in the hills or out fishing IMO. :)

=====

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by woodysdad - 2007/10/30 21:25

---

The Cullen chippie in ...erm..Cullen:blush: is magic! Just to go in and order two fish suppers and the bloke shouts down the stair "Tvae Fash!:laugh:

But don't ask for sauce...the sell ye a wee sachet o' HP!:ohmy:

=====

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by woodysdad - 2007/10/30 21:26

---

The Cullen chippie in ...erm..Cullen:blush: is magic! Just to go in and order two fish suppers and the bloke shouts down the stair "Twaë Fash!:laugh:

But don't ask for sauce...the sell ye a wee sachet o' HP!:ohmy:

---

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by Levenax - 2007/10/31 00:07

---

So good you told us twice! :)

---

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by woodysdad - 2007/10/31 21:27

---

Well it was twofish suppers!!:laugh: :laugh: :laugh:

---

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by agentmancuso - 2007/11/01 20:05

---

Pizza Magic in Hyndland.

The one at the harbour in Portree is good too, and the kiosk thing in Ullapool.

---

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by Bigman - 2007/11/09 10:38

---

Any of the Bervie chippers, the one in Arbroath, Inverbervie and Stonehaven, all absolutley brilliant, oh and the Ashvale in Eberdeen needs to get a mention too.

Years ago there was one in Granton on Spey that was to die for, oh and the Anstruther Fish bar is not bad, but all the Chippies in Anstruther are good.

The Golden chip in Dunfermline takes a bit of beating too!

Oh man all this takl of chippers is making me hungry.....

---

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by Levenax - 2007/11/09 16:01

---

agentmancuso wrote:The one at the harbour in Portree is good too

Many years ago there was a caravan located in a car park near the harbour in Portree that was the only place that sold food on a Sunday. I tried the fish and chips and they were vile possibly the worst I ever had. So bad the seagulls baulked at it.

---

---

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by Senga - 2007/12/29 01:23

---

Alaris in Chalmers Street, Dunfermline B)

=====

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by Unbeliever - 2007/12/29 09:24

---

Yep Senga, Amos serves up a good fish supper.

=====

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by TLJ - 2008/01/23 22:29

---

Not on our list so far, but the official winner is the Townhead Cafe in Biggar

=====

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by maria143 - 2008/01/25 15:05

---

There are no fish & chip shops here (FL) you would think they would and I have never seen one at the keys....you could have them in restuarants (kids menu) but I don't think they are the same....There was this fish & chips in Alaska I wanted to try but my stupid sister can not be near seafood.....( So we all went to another place they had reindeer hot dogs and burgers....blink: yuk...

=====

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by davidn87 - 2008/01/29 14:19

---

I love that one in Ayr, it's next to a sweetie shop. I forget the name but I love it.

=====

Re:Best fish & chip shop

Posted by Bigman - 2008/02/25 00:09

---

Senga wrote:

Alaris in Chalmers Street, Dunfermline B)

Illario's in Kincardine is pretty gweed as well!

=====