It was an emotional side of God.. His heart being ripped out by his beloved wife, Isreal. His love for his wife...And her fornicating and adultress ways. His anguish. His final divorce of Isreal.. His washing of the hands of a problem that would not fix itself. The arrogance of the sons and daughters of a great people that they felt entitled to something that was no longer theirs with no merit at all.. The poetic years of trying to warn a message and all that resulted in the years to come. The delivery.

It was a powerful message...
