Why?

Please tell me why?

Over on FTS when it was on its arse, thats all you would see as new posts, bloody word association.

Please, get it to f.....

We need WA like a hole in the head!

We need WA like a hole in the head!

Was WA the downfall of FTS then, Bigman?

If folk want to start a thread or make a post, they'll do it. Whether there's a WA thread doesn't matter a jot in my opinion; Someone won't visit the site with a point to make on a subject then say "Oh, there's a WA thread here, let's just do that instead and forget about my original post/thread".

Come on, Bigman it's just a bit of fun that some folk enjoy - it doesn't stop anyone posting anywhere else!;

If you don't like the thing, don't visit it, mate.:)

I like having a word association thread because sometimes I'm on a flying visit on the board and can't stay long and it's amusing and theraputic at the same time. I'm also a believer in that sometimes one word can say it all.:)
