Is there a place here for photos like we had on FTS?

Are we allowed to have an avatar with our signature and is that the same also on FTS?

I'll be adding more features over time. The big thing about the photos is the amount of bandwidth they take up and I'll really need to monitor what usage we're having before I add that on (I pay for this site, unlike FTS which was free - hence no adverts here !). However, it's not going to break the bank to go up to the next contract level which will give me more bandwidth so I expect it might well be something to add.

There should be a way of adding an avatar/sig. I'll have to check it out.

This is a great site, and I'd contribute a few bob towards it with no strings- except total control over editorial policy and overall control of every aspect of the site. ;)
