NOT!!!

Please dont kill the crayfish!.Unless you are gonna eat'm or freeze'm...

Lordie, Lordie... have you ever ATE them?! Send them back to N'Owleans and sell them.. Ship them to me!!

They are mightie tastie in ettoufee...its one of my fave dishes!!!
Or just serve'm up with cobs of corn..

Maybe y'all should open up your own n'owleans style restaurant... but why waste good food?! I gotta pay an arm and a leg for good seafood in my area (indiana...far from the goodies...) and here you just want to exterminate a delicacy?! my eyes hurt.:S :blink: :S :blink:

hell. hows bout those people that are starving and killin for food...:huh: i bet theyd LOVE seafood in their corn mush!!!!

The thing is more that they are encouraging folk to kill-off the American Signal Crayfish, which since its introduction to the UK in the 70s, has spread to watercourses over a very large portion of the country. Displacing & now seriously jeopardising the native White Clawed Crayfish in the process.

Scotland is about the last part of the UK where the watercourses are largely free of them & we really don't want to see that change as the more aggressive US species can upset the natural balance in a number of unwanted ways. :(

yeah, yeah, yeah... i understand that they are..off setting the balance...
we have a problem in our great lakes.. that came from other ships apparently.. and its like a disease.. its going to HAVE TO be taken care of.. or else.

i understand that... i get that..
but if your going to just kill a fish.. that is a luxury for others... why not eat it or make a profit off of it?! i mean.. is n'owleans low on produce? because of over harvesting?... maybe they could USE the pest that you dont desire.. make money!!

i'd eat it.:P and of course make a profit off of it. but of course.. im not a fish expert and i dont have the tastebuds of the bestest seafood.. but, hell. neither does half of our nation...:blush: im a land person.. but, whene'er i go back down thar.. i'll be hittin the nastie crawfish cookin'!!!! one mans trash is another mans treasure!!!!IMO
